SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Navy bombers raided an electric power plant near the heart of Hanoi today, and two pilots reported shooting down a supersonic MIG21 just south of the Communist capital.

Fliers from the carrier Oriskany bombed the power plant 1.1 miles north of the center of Hanoi, continuing for a third straight day intensified U.S. raids on bridges, rail yards and MIG air bases around Hanoi and Haiphong.

The U.S. Command said results of the latest Hanoi raid were not yet available. But it announced earlier that 10 more MIGs were destroyed or damaged on the ground during strikes Wednesday on the Phuc Yen air base 18 miles northwest of the Communist capital.

Tass, the Soviet news agency, in a dispatch from Hanoi said American planes bombed and strafed the center of the city. The dispatch said five U.S. planes were shot down and several American fliers bailed out.

In a later report, Hanoi's official Vietnam News Agency declared 12 American planes were shot down today, 10 over Hanoi. It said in a broadcast dispatch some pilots bailed out and were captured.

The U.S. Command made no announcement of any plane losses today but said three U.S. fighter-bombers were shot down Wednesday in the raids on Phuc Yen and on Hanoi's mile-long Paul Doumer Bridge. All three pilots are missing.

The stepped up air war in the North again overshadowed ground fighting in the South, but South Korean infantrymen and South Vietnamese militiamen reported they had 300 to 350 enemy soldiers trapped in three pockets near the South China Sea coast 200 miles northeast of Saigon.

Incomplete reports said 33 of the enemy had been killed so far, while Korean and Vietnamese casualties were light.

The U.S. Command announced that American casualties in the ground war rose slightly last week and were more than double the South Vietnamese casualties. U.S. forces reported 193 killed, 949 wounded and seven missing, while the South Vietnamese said theirs were 81 killed, 355 wounded and two missing. It was the second week in succession that American casualties exceeded those of the South Vietnamese.

Industrial Laundry Bond Issue Plans Are Approved

The city council Tuesday approved plans to hold a revenue bond issue election for the construction of an industrial laundry, and agreed to allow City Attorney Manuel Drumm to negotiate terms with attorneys for Charles E. Todd Industrial Laundry of St. Louis.

Chamber of Commerce President William S. Huff told the tentative plans of the laundry. Negotiations have been underway with the Todd firm for more than two months. The firm is 87 years old and has five other industrial laundries. Their credit rating is good and Todd has been a delight to work with, Huff continued. The basic reason the Todd firm wants to build by issuance of revenue bonds is because he will be able to construct a larger plant with new equipment and employ more people than if the firm used its own capitol, Huff explained.

Tentative plans call for sale of $250,000 in revenue bonds for purchase of land, construction of the building and for purchase and installation of equipment. The bonds would be retired over a 20-year period and the Todd firm would then have two five year options to rent the building. At the end of a 10-year period, the Todd firm could buy the building for $1. The title would be held by the city until the sale, Drumm explained.

The revenue bond issue eliminates real property taxes until the firm exercises an option to own the property. City taxes would not be required for financing the project. The bonds and interest would be paid from revenue that the laundry produces, Drumm explained.

To hold a revenue bond election, the city would require approval from Jefferson City, giving the city an added safeguard. A 4/7ths majority of the votes cast by residents in favor of the issuance of bonds payable from the operations of the laundry would be required for passage.

The proposal would state that the voter would not be voting general obligation bonds to be paid by the city. Initial plans call for the employment of 80 to 85 persons. The firm would expect to expand later to a working force of 120-

125, Huff said. If the revenue bond method is not approved and Todd builds its own plant, they plan to build a smaller plant, employ fewer persons and use cheaper equipment initially, Huff said. Their operations of the laundry would be expected to cost about $150,000 to $175,000.

The laundry would not compete with an existing industry, because it caters to uniform rental, restaurant and industrial laundry jobs, Huff explained. It will offer employment opportunities to unskilled, or semi-skilled Negroes, he said.

Committee Finds No Basis For Charges Against Long

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate ethics committee says it finds no basis to support misconduct accusations against Sen. Edward V. Long, D-Mo.

The panel now plans to push forward with its efforts to develop a code of standards and conduct for senators and Senate employees.

The bipartisan committee's work on a code has twice been interrupted, first by its investigation into misconduct charges against Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., and then by its inquiry into the affairs of Long.

Chairman John Stennis, D-Miss., said despite the delays the committee may submit a code for Senate action before Congress adjourns this year.

The committee's report Wednesday to the Senate on its closed inquiry into Life magazine allegations against Long said it found no basis for conducting public hearings.

Long said he regarded the ethics panel's unanimous report as a complete vindication. He told the Senate his honor and integrity had been questioned for the first time in his career and the report had lifted a great burden.

The May 26 Life article said that in 1963 and 1964 Long had received $48,000 in legal fees from Morris A. Shenker, a St. Louis attorney for imprisoned Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa. The magazine suggested Long misused a Senate probe of wiretapping—which he headed—in an effort to keep Hoffa out of jail.

Hoffa has based attempts to overturn his conviction for jury tampering for the most part on grounds evidence against him was gained through illegal wiretapping.

Long never denied receiving money from Shenker. But he said it represented fee splitting in connection with legal services having nothing to do either with Hoffa or the Teamsters.

The committee said five clients were involved in the Shenker-Long payments, and added:

"From the evidence and information the committee has been able to develop, the committee has found no facts which show that either the payments to Mr. Shenker from the five clients, or the payments by Mr. Shenker to Senator Long, had any connection with Senator Long's duties or activities as chairman of the Subcommittee on Administrative Practice and Procedure, the subcommittee's hearings, or Senator Long's duties or activities as a member of the Senate."

Hanoi Plant Bombed

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Navy bombers raided an electric power plant near the heart of Hanoi today, and two pilots reported shooting down a supersonic MIG21 just south of the Communist capital.

Fliers from the carrier Oriskany bombed the power plant 1.1 miles north of the center of Hanoi, continuing for a third straight day intensified U.S. raids on bridges, rail yards and MIG air bases around Hanoi and Haiphong.

The U.S. Command said results of the latest Hanoi raid were not yet available. But it announced earlier that 10 more MIGs were destroyed or damaged on the ground during strikes Wednesday on the Phuc Yen air base 18 miles northwest of the Communist capital.

Tass, the Soviet news agency, in a dispatch from Hanoi said American planes bombed and strafed the center of the city. The dispatch said five U.S. planes were shot down and several American fliers bailed out.

In a later report, Hanoi's official Vietnam News Agency declared 12 American planes were shot down today. 10 over Hanoi. It said in a broadcast dispatch some pilots bailed out and were captured.

The U.S. Command made no announcement of any plane losses today but said three U.S. fighter-bombers were shot down Wednesday in the raids on Phuc Yen and on Hanoi's mile-long Paul Doumer Bridge. All three pilots are missing.

The stepped up air war in the North again overshadowed ground fighting in the South, but South Korean infantrymen and South Vietnamese militiamen reported they had 300 to 350 enemy soldiers trapped in three pockets near the South China Sea coast 200 miles northeast of Saigon.

Incomplete reports said 33 of the enemy had been killed so far, while Korean and Vietnamese casualties were light.

The U.S. Command announced that American casualties in the ground war rose slightly last week and were more than double the South Vietnamese casualties. U.S. forces reported 193 killed, 949 wounded and seven missing, while the South Vietnamese said theirs were 81 killed, 355 wounded and two missing. It was the second week in succession that American casualties exceeded those of the South Vietnamese.

ERNEST ELLEDGE, junior high school principal, was named boss of the year at the annual bosses' night Wednesday sponsored by the Business and Professional Woman's club. Mrs. Darrell Alcorn, chairman of the public relations committee, presents Elledge with a paper weight. Elledge was a guest of seventh grade English teacher, Mrs. Bill Sappenfield. ## BPW Crowns Principal Elledge as Top Boss Ernest Elledge, 809 Poplar Dr., junior high school principal, was named boss of the year at the annual bosses' night dinner Wednesday at the Holiday Inn. Bosses' night is sponsored by the Business and Professional Woman's club.

Elledge has been junior high principal three years. He was assistant principal four years and taught three years at the school.

Lee Ann Yeargain, dressed as a witch, drew Elledge's name from a witch's pot, containing the names of employers present.

Mrs. Darrell Alcorn, chairman of the public relations committee, crowned Elledge and presented him with an engraved plaque and a paper weight inscribed "Under this rock is the world's oldest stack of unopened mail."

Mrs. M. L. Canedy read an original poem and sang an original song to Elledge. Mrs. Elmer Poage, pianist, accompanied her.

Elledge was a guest of Mrs. Bill Sappenfield, seventh grade English teacher.

Priscilla Righter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Righter, 501 Clayton, was given an award of merit by the club. Mrs. Ralph Carroll, chairman of the civic participation committee, introduced her.

Miss Righter is the 1967 Miss Sikeston. She is a member of Red Peppers, a twirler and has served as a member of the student council four years. She is a past honored queen of the Job's Daughters and is a member of the First Christian church.

She was a candidate for Miss Midtown last year.

A high school girl is honored with an award of merit each month.

The Ramblers, a trio of high school juniors, sang six songs. Members of the trio are Bob Lambert, Barbara Armour and David Bird.

Mrs. Canedy, posing as Phyllis Diller's twin sister, was commentator for a comic fashion review. Models were Mrs. Lynn Mouchett, Mrs. Robert Black, Mrs. Sappenfield, Mrs. Norman Bennett, Mrs. Gerald Yeargain, Mrs. Dale White, Miss Addie Mae Jones, Mrs.

school juniors, sang six songs. Members of the trio are Bob Lambert, Barbara Armour and David Bird.

Hostesses were Mrs. Yeargain, Mrs. Bennett, Mrs. Harold Rogers and Mrs. C. M. Sikes.

Members of the program committee were Mrs. Alcorn, Mrs. Carl Campbell, Mrs. Margaret Cain, Mrs. Jo Anne Fox and Mrs. Avis Taylor.

Ninety seven attended.

Seaman Larry Edward Kinsey, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Kinsey, 530 Clayton, was awarded the Purple Heart Saturday aboard the USS Prairie.

Kinsey, a 1966 graduate of Sikeston high school, was shot in the leg Sept. 13 while on shore in Vietnam bringing wounded men aboard the ship. He was wounded by a fragment of an artillery shell. He wore a brace.

Kinsey joined the navy Feb. 27. His home port is San Francisco. Beginning Nov. 1, Kinsey will be in charge of the ship's store. He will receive a 20-day Christmas leave beginning Dec. 22.

The USS Prairie was awarded two ribbons for her actions off Vietnam. The ship was cited for outstanding duty while carrying out tender duty and rescue operations in Vietnam.

Kinsey's citation read: "Seaman Larry E. Kinsey, according to the line of duty, and while under heavy enemy fire, did subject himself to the deadly fire knowing that such could be fatal. He then proceeded to carry out evacuation exercises for wounded troops trapped on the beach, and while in performance of his duty, he was wounded by the intense mortal fire."

The Rev. Dr. Field won his post in a runoff election, but a spokesman said convention rules forbidding revealing the name of the losing candidate.

The new president has been pastor of the First Baptist Church in Springfield for seven years. He also is chairman of the board of Southwest Baptist College at Bolivar, Mo., and holds a number of posts in state and national church organizations.

Dr. Field will head a convention which has 1,850 churches and a total membership of more than 500,000. The delegates will conclude their work in another business session today during which they will select the site for their 1969 meeting.

Charles McKinney, was treated Wednesday at the Missouri Delta Community hospital for a cut on the right arm from tin while at work.

Pathologist Millard White of Sarasota, who performed autopsy on six of the dead children, said they definitely died of parathion or malathion poisoning. Both are chemicals used in the control of insects in agriculture.

Cline said four of the children down and rolled in it or swallowed it. We just don't know morning and went home for what the means of intake was."

Industrial Laundry Bond Issue Plans Are Approved

The city council Tuesday approved plans to hold a revenue bond issue election for the construction of an industrial laundry, and agreed to allow City Attorney Manuel Drumm to negotiate terms with attorneys for Charles E. Todd Industrial Laundry of St. Louis.

Chamber of Commerce President William S. Huff told the tentative plans of the laundry. Negotiations have been underway with the Todd firm for more than two months. The firm is 87 years old and has five other industrial laundries. Their credit rating is good and Todd has been a delight to work with, Huff continued.

The basic reason the Todd firm wants to build by issuance of revenue bonds is because he will be able to construct a larger plant with new equipment and employ more people than if the firm used its own capitol, Huff explained.

Tentative plans call for sale of $250,000 in revenue bonds for purchase of land, construction of the building and for purchase and installation of equipment. The bonds would be retired over a 20-year period and the Todd firm would then have two five year options to rent the building.

At the end of a 20-year period, the Todd firm could buy the building for $1. The title would be held by the city until the sale, Drumm explained.

The revenue bond issue eliminates real property taxes until the firm exercises an option to own the property.

City taxes would not be required for financing the project. The bonds and interest would be paid from revenue that the laundry produces, Drumm explained.

To hold a revenue bond election would require approval from Jefferson City, giving the city an added safeguard.

A 4/7ths majority of the votes cast by residents in favor of the issuance of bonds payable from general obligation bonds to be paid by the city.

Initial plans call for the employment of 80 to 85 persons. The firm would expect to expand later to a working force of 120-125, Huff said.

If the revenue bond method is approved and Todd builds its own plant, they plan to build a smaller plant, employ fewer persons and use cheaper equipment initially, Huff said. Their operations of the laundry would be required for passage.

The proposal would state that the voter would not be voting general obligation bonds to be paid by the city.

The laundry would not compete with an existing industry, because it caters to uniform rental, restaurant and industrial laundry jobs, Huff explained.

It will offer employment opportunities to unskilled, or semi-skilled Negroes, he said.

Lee Matthews will conduct the Webelos den leaders training and Mrs. Hazel Hopkins of Sikeston will give den leader coach training.

The May 26 Life article said that in 1963 and 1964 Long had received $48,000 in legal fees from Morris A. Shenker, a St. Louis attorney for imprisoned Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa. The magazine suggested Long misused a Senate probe of wiretapping-- which he headed-- in an effort to keep Hoffa out of jail.

Hoffa has based attempts to overturn his conviction for jury tampering for the most part on grounds evidence against him was gained through illegal wiretapping.

Long never denied receiving money from Shenker. But he said it represented fee splitting in connection with legal services having nothing to do either with Hoffa or the Teamsters.

The committee said five clients were involved in the Shenker-Long payments, and added:

"From the evidence and information the committee has been able to develop, the committee has found no facts which show that either the payments to Mr. Shenker from the five clients, or the payments by Mr. Shenker to Senator Long, had any connection with Senator Long's duties as chairman of the Subcommittee on Administration and Procedure, the subcommittee's hearings, or Senator Long's duties or activities as a member of the Senate."

The committee's report Wednesday to the Senate on its closed inquiry into life magazine allegations against Long said it found no basis for conducting public hearings.

Long said he regarded the ethic panel's unanimous report as a complete vindication. He told the Senate his honor and integrity had been questioned for the first time in his career and the report had lifted a great burden.

Ordinance to Aid Transfer Of Elderly Housing Units

An ordinance to delete a section of the agreement between the city and the Sikeston Housing Authority to allow a smoother transfer of ownership to the city of the 75 units to be built for the elderly was adopted in a meeting of the city council at 5 p.m. Tuesday at the city administration building.

The ordinance amends the March 8, 1958, agreement to eliminate the reimbursement clause. It allows the housing authority to transfer the ownership of the new project to the city free and clear after 40 years. It means several thousand dollars to the city, Billy Hanna, Housing Authority director, said.

The change was made in conjunction with the passage of a federal law but will only affect the new project, Hanna said.

The council also adopted an ordinance amending the city's ordinance on liquor sales to comply with new state laws, which became effective Oct. 13.

The amendments allow taverns, which sell 5 per cent beer, to stay open until 1:30 a.m. on Sundays. Before they were required to close at midnight.

In addition, when Dec. 31 falls on Sunday taverns and liquor stores may open at 1 p.m. and remain open until 1:30 a.m., or their regular closing time, City Attorney Manuel Drumm explained.

In reply to a letter from Sikeston Light and Water director E. R. Inman, the council approved plans to revise the terms of office of the Light and Water Co. board members so only one member's term will expire each year.

Two of the board members are due to expire in 1968. They are David Blanton and Keith Collins.

A proclamation to be signed by Mayor Kendall Sikes declaring Nov. 11, as Veterans' Day and urging residents to observe it, was read.

The council tabled a plan where the city would develop for public use three acres of park property on the Hunter Memorial First Presbyterian Church grounds.

The city would be liable for accidents there, and the church indicated that the city would not be deemed the property for any appreciable time, City Manager W. Raymont Miller said.

A communication from the park board requesting authorization to perform repair work on the city mausoleum was read. The council agreed with a suggestion of Mayor Sikes that relatives of persons with crypts be asked for donations for the work before the city takes action.

They and 31 others-- who are accepting food-- are the only persons still being held of the 667 persons arrested during the march on the Pentagon. An estimated 35,000 persons took part in the rally at Defense Department headquarters. Some of them camped on the Pentagon mall until arrested or forced to leave at midnight Sunday.

Among the men at the jail was the Rev. Daniel Berrigan, a Jesuit poet who works with the United Religious Group at Cornell University. He has refused all food since he was arrested. He pleaded no contest Tuesday to a charge of disorderly conduct, but refused to pay a $25 fine.

The fasters are not presently being forced to take food, jail officials said.

Ten of the persons now being held reportedly refused arraignment by declining to give their correct names or to stand before a federal commissioner during arraignment, 16 are serving sentences and 22 are either unable or unwilling to post bond, officials said.

Committee Finds No Basis For Charges Against Long

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate ethics committee says it finds no facts to support misconduct accusations against Sen. Edward V. Long, D-Mo.

The panel now plans to push forward with its efforts to develop a code of standards and conduct for senators and Senate employees.

The bipartisan committee's work on a code has twice been interrupted, first by its investigation into misconduct charges against Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., and then by its inquiry into the affairs of Long.

Chairman John Stennis, D-Miss., said despite the delays the committee may submit a code for Senate action before Congress adjourns this year.

The committee's report Wednesday to the Senate on its closed inquiry into life magazine allegations against Long said it found no basis for conducting public hearings.

Long said he regarded the ethic panel's unanimous report as a complete vindication. He told the Senate his honor and integrity had been questioned for the first time in his career and the report had lifted a great burden.

Elderly Women Suffer Burns Fighting Blaze

Two elderly women suffered minor burns and were treated and released at Missouri Delta Community hospital Tuesday night after fighting a fire at the residence of Mrs. J. H. McClellan, 77, 729 Delmar.

Mrs. McClellan awoke coughing and choking from thick smoke in the house at about 11 p.m. She got up and turned on the lights, but could not see anything because of the heavy black smoke, she related.

She then awoke her sister Mrs. Geneva Vandecarr, 61, who was sleeping in a front bedroom. Mrs. McClellan turned on an attic fan after calling the fire department. She and her sister then attempted to extinguish the fire which was concentrated in the living room couch.

"The smoke was so thick that I couldn't see to dial. So I dialed 0 and had the operator turn in the alarm," Mrs. McClellan said.

Mrs. Vandecarr suffered minor burns to her right hand and right foot when she picked up a burning foam rubber cushion. Mrs. McClellan suffered burns to her right hand while fighting the fire.

Firemen extinguished the blaze. The couch, living room rug, drapes and a coffee table were damaged by the fire, and smoke damage was caused through the house, Mrs. McClellan said.

Reagan Urges Candidate for Viet Victory

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — The Republican party must offer a candidate "aligned to victory" in Vietnam if it expects to elect a president in 1968, says California Gov

POOR CHARLIE SAYS!

One interesting side aspect of the war in Vietnam may have been overlooked in the preoccupation with protest marches, street demonstrations and draft card burnings.

The protests are being made in this country, shamefully in mass demonstrations in the nation's capital that give aid and comfort to the enemy, and in Europe.

Europe has an ax to grind. Many Europeans fear that this country has become too involved to carry out its commitments in Europe. They resent American attention in a part of the world that seems remote to them.

To some extent this fear for other reasons is held by prominent Americans. Sen. Stuart Symington and others have expressed concern that the United States may become over extended in its world obligations.

Our young people have a legitimate concern with the war. They are the ones who must fight it although those in the battle zones don't hold those, who take part in protest marches, in highest esteem.

What Americans may not have noticed is the absence of protest demonstrations in Asia. This is particularly surprising because of the frequently voiced opposition of foreign people to this country's intrusion into their domestic affairs.

Almost all the talk about Americans offending the nationalistic instincts of the Vietnamese comes from Americans or the Viet Cong.

Let's let Tan Sri Ong Yoke-Lin, Malaysian ambassador to the United States, answer the question in the October Reader's Digest:

"I know that it wasn't 'nationalism' that caused Communist terrorists to kill Malaysians for 12 years. It was an international conspiracy. A fanatical wing of these same conspirators is operating in Vietnam today."

How about the argument that Vietnam isn't important and is remote to American interests. Again the Malaysian ambassador, who was asked what is at stake:

"The independence of more than 200 million people in Southeast Asia; the rice bowl of the world; vast supplies of rubber, tin and oil; strategic control of critical sea lanes; the possibility of a wider war; and the integrity of a great nation, the United States -- all are at stake. And much more -- not the least of which is the simple desire of small, weak countries like mine to live free of harassment and aggression by the great powers, free of foreign coercion and subversion. That is what is at stake."

Russell Townsley writes that the story of a bishop communicating with his dead son is hard to believe -- particularly after learning how hard it is these days to communicate with the live ones.

Don't say you have done your best, if you haven't.

HITTING THE TARGET???

The current issue of The Professional Photographer tells its readers that the newspaper is the most timely medium for photographers, especially those who live in a small town where everyone looks forward to his weekly paper. The newspaper is one of the most economical forms of advertising and you gain the best results with a consistent program.

American consumers spent more than $28 billion for health care in 1965, or 6.5 per cent of a total of $431.5 billion in consumer expenditures, according to figures released by the U.S. Department of Commerce. This was an increase of 9.5 per cent over that of 1964.

Way of life: Making instant coffee, and lingering over it for an hour.

The Chamber of Commerce is wise to proceed with plans to build its own building.

The image created by the Chamber of Commerce is important to newcomers and industrial prospects, who come to the community and of some significance to all residents.

The quarters in the City Administration building are not the answer although they are, of course, better than nothing. The Chamber of Commerce offices are not in a prominent position. Space is limited. It is located in an area of divided interest, which can be distracting to a caller.

The proposed new location, where the Chamber will build its own structure, requires a trip by car but this is a motor age and getting out there on the east side will be no problem.

The relative isolation will permit parking space on both sides, a consideration of growing importance. Brick and mortar are no substitute for an aggressive Chamber of Commerce program supported by a generous and enthusiastic membership but new quarters will do much to perk up the energy of the members themselves.

The more favorable impression created on visitors will be only one part of the return on the investment in a new building.

Since the cost will be $20,000, a comparatively modest price by today's standards, no time should be lost getting the building up and into use.

There are many ways in which the organization can finance the building without creating a strain on the pocketbooks of members.

The Chamber of Commerce is here to stay. A new building will do for it what a trip to the beauty parlor does for a woman's morale and that is saying a great deal.

Let's show our best face to visitors!

The Colonel said:

Tests in England and a California search and destroy mission to curtail wet weather road hazards carry an important message for Southeast Missouri motorists.

The number of wet weather accidents on asphalt paving in Southeast Missouri and throughout the South is tremendous. Yes, they can happen on concrete, too, but asphalt paving, made slick by oil deposits and with an uneven surface, is extremely hazardous.

It is raining hard. The highway is straight and level. Visibility is fair. Suddenly a big truck veers off the highway and overturns.

The driver complains of defective steering. Many accidents are like this.

They probably are due to hydroplaning. There has been little research on this accident cause. English tests show that a bald tire will hydroplane at 50 miles an hour. It is possible to make even the best tires do it under certain conditions.

In heavy rains on smooth pavement, tires build up a wedge of water ahead. If this wedge accumulates sufficiently, the tire will lose contact with the pavement.

The wheels stop turning. When this happens, a sudden gust of wind, unevenness in the pavement, air pressure from a passing vehicle, any slight disturbance can send car out of control.

Expert drivers report they can sense it when they reach the danger point.

California has given special attention to wet weather accident locations. Where the friction factor is low, corrective measures are taken. These measures include roughing the surface. Studies indicate that such measures reduce wet weather accidents as much as 90 per cent.

Until other states take these measures, which offer only limited assistance, it will be up to drivers to take into account the conditions of the road over which they are traveling.

No wet weather driving should be done with tires worn smooth. Tires should have a tread at least one eighth of an inch thick. Speed should be cut to 50 miles an hour or less if the car begins to become unresponsive to steering or acceleration.

Some people's "troubles" make people laugh instead of cry.

A Sikeston man and his wife did not speak to each other for three months. The trouble started when he mentioned the word bowels and she contended that no Gentleman would use such a word in the presence of a Lady.

NEW YORK (AP) — One of features are tacked up in the local post office.

I am generally mistaken for the man who sold them a used car in Dubuque, the guy who hasn't been doing so well in real estate in Arizona, or that funny-looking fellow--what WAS his name--who once sat behind them in study hall in high school in Omaha.

It is bad enough to be mistaken for someone else by men I've never encountered before. What is worse is how I am constantly being mistaken by strange women.

They are never gloriously young and blonde and desiring. They are invariably near-sighted, demanding, testy, and showing definite hallmarks of being older than they used to be.

They say things like: "Well, I've been waiting here for hours for you to show up. Where in heaven's name have you been?" "Here, you hold the baby--I'm tired."

And then they exclaim, "Oh, I thought you were my husband!" and glare at me in mute but furious accusation.

Now and then I get a puzzled feeling myself that I am someone I have met before.

BIRTH CURB UPHILL FIGHT IN INDIA

A sociologist recently challenged the right of people to have more than two or three children, regardless of their wealth.

The question, he said, is no longer the private one of whether the individual family can afford it but the public one of whether society can afford it.

His statement made little news. The question of overpopulation is largely academic in America, fortunately, and a gradually declining birth rate gives promise that it will be a number of generations before Americans are forced to ask themselves if there are not as many of them as there sensibly ought to be.

We have only to look to India, however, to see a nation which is desperately struggling to hold down a soaring spiral of human reproduction that threatens to outrun every gain it can hope to make in economic productivity. The Indian government has long been fostering the spread of birth control knowledge and means to its thousands of villages and encouraging voluntary sterilization. But in a society where each child still represents both an extra pair of working hands and old age insurance for his parents, these efforts have not been enough.

The ministry for family planning, headed by Dr. Sriprati Chandrasekar, is now pushing for attacks on a variety of fronts. One of his proposals, which women would never allow to be passed in America, would give special tax concessions to bachelors.

Instead of penalizing single men by allowing them no exemptions, says the minister, they should be given reduced rates for not contributing to the population problem.

Other proposals include eliminating tax exemptions for more than three children, paying bonuses to couples who limit their families to two children, raising the minimum marriage age for women from 16 to 19 or 20 and legalizing abortion. Chandrasekar is optimistic that with these measures his goal of slashing India's birth rate in half within 10 years can be reached. Even then, it will still be higher than America's is today.

Judge: "Your wife says you blackened her eyes, broke her nose, and knocked her out." Defendant: "You're not going to take the word of a punch-drunk woman, are you, your honor?"

YOUR MONEY? WE SPENT IT! A couple of news items which appeared the same day recently must have caused readers to blink and think.

One was about a couple of guys who stood in court with smirks on their faces as a reluctant judge had to dismiss murder charges against them because their voluntary confessions had been made without benefit of attorneys to inform them of their rights.

The other item was the solemn warning by the secretary of the U.S. Treasury that unless Congress boosted the government's debt limit by $7 billion within 30 days, it might be just too late for elderly citizens who depend on Social Security, veterans' pensions and retirement pay. There just might be no money for such things.

Now, many of us have been under the impression that the first ruler of neutral Laos under the treaty of 1954, our CIA agents conspired to kick him out. They put strong -man Gen. Phoumi Nosavan on the throne. Instead, it was a serious mistake. Compounding the mistake, President Kennedy started sending U.S. troops to Laos.

Finally, thanks to the wisdom of Ambassador Averell Harriman and an assist from Nikita Khrushchev, we reversed ourselves and let Prince Souvanna Phouma get back into power. He has forgiven us the error and has been very cooperative ever since.

Last week, as several thousand peace marchers demonstrated at the Lincoln Memorial south of the White House, the President and Prince Souvanna Phouma sat in the sun discussing the elusive problem of peace.

What has disrupted that peace is a series of blunders. The first was made by Eisenhower when he let Cardinal Spellman and Vice President Nixon talk him into sending military advisers and a large amount of American aid into South Vietnam to protect Catholic refugees going south from the north.

The second mistake was made by Kennedy when, shaken by the Bay of Pigs fiasco and anxious to recoup his prestige, he sent around 18,000 troops into South Vietnam in September 1961. Later he upped the number to 30,000.

The third mistake was made started bombing North Vietnam. There were then less than 30,000 U.S. troops in South Vietnam and the rate of communist troop infiltration south was about 2,000 a month. Today we have 465,000 a month. From 22,000 North Vietnamese troops in the south in 1965 the number has gone up to 297,000.

And the end is not in sight. President Johnson has proved himself a big man by helping to rectify the mistakes of the past -- in Mexico, Singapore and Laos. It will not be easy to rectify the mistakes in Vietnam, but it now seems certain that this is the only real way to achieve peace.

Worst mistake
Prince Souvanna Phouma, the third visitor, had been more shabbily treated than any of the others. When he became the money paid into Social Security by an employee, along with that paid by his employer, was a bona fide, gilt-edge investment in the employee's future and was just like putting money in the bank.

But the United States government now announces that unless immediate action is taken by Congress to permit Uncle Sam to go even deeper into debt, Uncle won't have this money to pay back to those who entrusted it to him as a hedge against what are euphemistically called the "Golden Years."

A couple of questions come to mind.

1. How come these particular funds are included among those for which there would be no money, when there still seems to be plenty of dough to spend on other governmental projects -- an annual travel bill of $1.7 billion and a printing item of $305 million, to name two?

2. Isn't the government's threat pretty much the same as a bank telling a depositor, "Sorry, pal, but we just won't be able to return your money to you -- unless, of course, we find a way to borrow a lot more cash in a hurry?"

Yes, Virginia, there are things besides Santa Claus that are hard to explain to little folks -- and to big folks, too.

And even when they're explained, they're hard to understand -- and to swallow.

Then there's the middle-aged woman who was so unhappy about her figure that she decided to shoot herself. She aimed the loaded gun at her breast, pulled the trigger -- and shot off her kneecap!

Do you know what Ferdinand wanted for Xmas? A good tight Jersey.

An optimist is a husband who goes down to the marriage to see if his license has expired.

What is the difference between a peeping Tom and a pick-pocket? A pick-pocket snatches watches.

Did you hear about the preacher that ruined his organ on a hymn?

Young Challengers in Both Parties Now Organizing To Contest 70- to 90-Year-Old Washington Leaders

Cincinnati -- Once when I asked Maurice Chevalier how now a successful Cincinnati lawyer felt to be nearing 80, his year, was advance man for Richard Nixon, two years later Unger was assistant director of the GOP congressional campaign committee. In '64, Nixon brought Unger into New York for pre-convention brainstorming. And then the young man from the banks of the Ohio River was one of the few Nixon men to be taken into the national headquarters by Republican Chairman Dean Rusk.

There, as special assistant to the chairman, Unger devised the vote quota system and pushed the party's big city drive. He has long served his apprenticeship. Now softly but with the iron of party experience in his voice, Unger says the time has come to run up front.

As one talks with Unger, one hears the voice of "The Generation." Sherman Unger, with lots more than a slingshot, is challenging the giant in Ohio -- the venerable Frank Lausche, two-term Senator and one of the Midwest's most phenomenal vote getters. Lausche now is 78.

To get a crack at Lausche, the young Republican must first qualify for the '68 race. This will mean running and winning in the spring primaries. Then it is the "unknown" against the elder, but Unger is not fazed -- there are others who made it without previous victories: Murphy, Percy and Reagan.

Don Quixote, this Sherman Unger, of whom there are legions across the land, tilting at Frank Lausche and even at the primaries will take more than an idea. And he, like "the generation," elsewhere, has many.

He talks of using helicopters in the campaign's final 60 days to take him into as many small and suburban communities as possible. He speaks of rivaling labor's COPE with "the use of sophisticated polling and direct approach techniques keyed to the computer," though he believes there is a sufficiently broad base now for labor inside the GOP.

He talks of sophisticated new telephone techniques and of storing census data and other information on memory tapes.

And he speaks of hitting the airwaves -- radio and especially the television screen. He may yet make it. But make it or not he and "The Generation" will sure try.

If the generation wins, Congress will be reshuffled as never before. The elders and the more youthful challengers apparently have no alternatives. The story is as new as next week's headlines and as old as the Ten Commandments.

In 1960, when the Kennedy forces

POOR CHARLIE SAYS!
One interesting side aspect of the war in Vietnam may have been overlooked in the preoccupation with protest marches, street demonstrations and draft card burnings.
The protests are being made in this country, shamefully in mass demonstrations in the nation's capital that give aid and comfort to the enemy, and in Europe.

Europe has an ax to grind.
Many Europeans fear that this country has become too involved to carry out its commitments in Europe. They resent American attention in a part of the world that seems remote to them.
To some extent this fear for other reasons is held by prominent Americans. Sen. Stuart Symington and others have expressed concern that the United States may become over extended in its world obligations.

Our young people have a legitimate concern with the war. They are the ones who must fight it although those in the battle zones don't hold those, who take part in protest marches, in high esteem.
What Americans may not have noticed is the absence of protest demonstrations in Asia. This is particularly surprising because of the frequently voiced opposition of foreign people to this country's intrusion into their domestic affairs.

Almost all the talk about Americans offending the nationalistic instincts of the Vietnamese comes from Americans or the Viet Cong.

Let's let Tan Sri Ong Yoke-Lin, Malaysian ambassador to the United States, answer the question in the October Reader's Digest:

"I know that it wasn't 'nationalism' that caused Communist terrorists to kill Malaysians for 12 years. It was an international conspiracy. A fanatical wing of these same conspirators is operating in Vietnam today."

How about the argument that Vietnam isn't important and is remote to American interests. Again the Malaysian ambassador, who was asked what is at stake:

"The independence of more than 200 million people in Southeast Asia; the rice bowl of the world; vast supplies of rubber, tin and oil; strategic control of critical sea lanes; the possibility of a wider war; and the integrity of a great nation, the United States -- all are at stake. And much more -- not the least of which is the simple desire of small, weak countries like mine to live free of harassment and aggression by the great powers, free of foreign coercion and subversion. That is what is at stake."

Russell Townsley writes that the story of a bishop communicating with his dead son is hard to believe -- particularly after learning how hard it is these days to communicate with the live ones.

Don't say you have done your best, if you haven't.

HITTING THE TARGET???

The current issue of The Professional Photographer tells its readers that the newspaper is the most timely medium for photographers, especially those who live in a small town where everyone looks forward to his weekly paper. The newspaper is one of the most economical forms of advertising and you gain the best results with a consistent program.

American consumers spent more than $28 billion for health care in 1965, or 6.5 per cent of a total of $431.5 billion in consumer expenditures, according to figures released by the U.S. Department of Commerce. This was an increase of 9.5 per cent over that of 1964.

Way of life: Making instant coffee, and lingering over it for an hour.

The Chamber of Commerce is wise to proceed with plans to build its own building.
The image created by the Chamber of Commerce is important to newcomers and industrial prospects, who come to the community and of some significance to all residents.

The quarters in the City Administration building are not the answer although they are, of course, better than nothing. The Chamber of Commerce offices are not in a prominent position. Space is limited. It is located in an area of divided interest, which can be distracting to a caller.

The proposed new location, where the Chamber will build its own structure, requires a trip by car but this is a motor age and getting out there on the east side will be no problem.

The relative isolation will permit parking space on both sides, a consideration of growing importance.
Brick and motor are no substitute for an aggressive Chamber of Commerce program supported by a generous and enthusiastic membership but new quarters will do much to perk up the energy of the members themselves.

The more favorable impression created on visitors will be only one part of the return on the investment in a new building.
Since the cost will be $20,000, a comparatively modest price by today's standards, no time should be lost getting the building up and into use.

There are many ways in which the organization can finance the building without creating a strain on the pocketbooks of members.
The Chamber of Commerce is here to stay.
A new building will do for it what a trip to the beauty parlor does for a woman's morale and that is saying a great deal.
Let's show our best face to visitors!

The Colonel said:
"Nothing makes a boy so mad as to have his dog follow a boy he dislikes."

It is a pity that a man cannot spend his life in wedding trips.

Henry Adams said it:

Tests in England and a California search and destroy mission to curtail wet weather road hazards carry an important message for Southeast Missouri motorists.

The number of wet weather accidents on asphalt paving in Southeast Missouri and throughout the South is tremendous. Yes, they can happen on concrete, too, but asphalt paving, made slick by oil deposits and with an uneven surface, is extremely hazardous.

It is raining hard. The highway is straight and level. Visibility is fair. Suddenly a big truck veers off the highway and overturns.

The driver complains of defective steering. Many accidents are like this.

They probably are due to hydroplaning. There has been little research on this accident cause. English tests show that a bald tire will hydroplane at 50 miles an hour. It is possible to make even the best tires do it under certain conditions.

In heavy rains on smooth pavement, tires build up a wedge of water ahead. If this wedge accumulates sufficiently, the tire will lose contact with the pavement.

The wheels stop turning. When this happens, a sudden gust of wind, unevenness in the pavement, air pressure from a passing vehicle, any slight disturbance can send car out of control.

Expert drivers report they can sense it when they reach the danger point.

California has given special attention to wet weather accident locations. Where the friction factor is low, corrective measures are taken. These measures include roughing the surface. Studies indicate that such measures reduce wet weather accidents as much as 90 per cent.

Until other states take these measures, which offer only limited assistance, it will be up to drivers to take into account the conditions of the road over which they are traveling.

No wet weather driving should be done with tires worn smooth. Tires should have a tread at least one eighth of an inch thick. Speed should be cut to 50 miles an hour or less if the car begins to become unresponsive to steering or acceleration.

Some people's "troubles" make people laugh instead of cry.

A Sikeston man and his wife did not speak to each other for three months. The trouble started when he mentioned the word bowels and she contended that no Gentleman would use such a word in the presence of a Lady.

NEW YORK (AP) — One of features are tacked up in the 104 Little oracles is to have an unforgettable face.

It is particularly a nuisance if the man who sold them a used car in Dubuque, the guy who hasn't been doing so well in real estate in Arizona, or that funny-looking fellow—what WAS his name?—who once sat behind them in study hall in high school in Omaha.

It is bad enough to be mistaken for someone else by men I've never encountered before. What is worse is how I am constantly being mistaken by strange women.

They are never gloriously young and blonde and desiring. They are invariably near-sighted, demanding, testy, tempered, and showing definite hallmarks of being older than they used to be.

They say things like:
"Well, I've been waiting here for hours for you to show up. Where in heaven's name have you been?"
"Here, you hold the baby—I'm tired."

And then they exclaim, "Oh, I thought you were my husband!" and glare at me in mute but furious accusation.

Now and then I get a puzzled feeling myself that I am someone I have met before.

Sometimes, when shaving in the morning, I look in the mirror and say to myself, "Excuse me, the fuzz is familiar, but aren't you the boy I used to know—or are you his father?"

Washington Merry - Go - Round

By Drew Pearson

DREW PEARSON SAYS: Foreign visitors prove U.S. errors can be overcome; policy reversals have rectified past mistakes; history indicates path from LBJ on Vietnam.

WASHINGTON -- Three important foreign visitors have been in Washington this week and last. They and their countries can teach the United States some lessons regarding peace.

They are: GUSTAVO DIAZ ORDAZ, President of Mexico, a country which occupies the same relation to the United States that Vietnam occupies to China.

PRIME MINISTER LEE KUAN YEW of Singapore, a city guarding the gateway between east and west Asia, in which live more than one million Chinese.

PRINCE SOUVANNA PHOUMA of Laos, a country which has actually permitted the United States to bomb its borders in order to stop the inflow of enemy munitions.

Significance behind the visits of all three is that with either item or their countries the United States has made serious mistakes. Yet we have apologized for those mistakes and the admission of error has paid off. This precedent might pay dividends regarding another serious mistake we have made in Vietnam.

MISTAKE WITH MEXICO Our mistake with Mexico dates back 53 years to the bombardment of Vera Cruz and Tampico in 1914. The U.S. navy hauled out its big guns and shattered these defenseless Mexican cities in the same way we are shattering the cities of North Vietnam today. We thought we had a justifiable grudge. We didn't, and finally came to realize our mistake.

Lyndon Johnson, as a young congressman, later as senator, vice president and president, has helped erase the wounds of those blunders. He helped elect the first Spanish-American to the U.S. congress, was the first President whom a Mexican President has ever visited on a Texaco ranch. For Texas, for many years, was a bad name in Mexico.

Now it isn't, thanks in part to Lyndon Johnson and to prelegalizing abortion. Chandrasekhar is optimistic that with these measures his goal of slashing India's birth rate in half within 10 years can be reached. Even then, it will still be higher than America's is today.

H. L. Hunt Says

FAVORED REFORM

Recently a poll was taken regarding continuation of the Electoral College System in its present form. Of those responding, only 10 per cent favored continuance of the plan by which our Nation's two highest officials are selected. That the present system is archaic and in need of reform is obvious as evidence by the above poll results.

This, however, does not mean that the Electoral College should be abolished as would be the case in the event the direct-vote plan is adopted. The system needs only to be brought up to date in continuity with present day U.S.A.

This up-dating can be accomplished by adoption of the Congressional District Plan for Reform of the Electoral College, which is now before Congress in the form of a proposed constitutional amendment.

Of the many advantages held over any other suggested plan, the Congressional District Plan would reduce the excessive voting power of the big city machines by 80 per cent, as compared to only a 20 per cent reduction in this power evolved by the direct vote plan.

Any plan that constitutes some other way of tallying the vote is as destructive as the direct vote. The plan which has been before Congress for 12 years and which calls for abolition of the Electoral College, is fatal to the precepts of our Republic.

A reform of the Electoral College is the difference between our Republic and dictatorship. Our system of constitutional government is unparalleled in the freedom it affords mankind.

The reform of our historic Electoral College system by adoption of the Congressional District Plan would be a great testimonial in the eyes of the world as to the continued workability of government within the framework of cricket or not, he's gonna carve a our Republic. HLH

Hawks Streak Ended

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Boston Celtics, whose long reign as champions of the National Basketball Association was terminated by Philadelphia last season, have served notice that they will be right back in the thick of things this season.

The Celtics ended St. Louis' seven-game winning streak Wednesday night, beating the Hawks 118-104. Player-coach Bill Russell, with 25 rebounds and sterling defensive play, was the big factor in Boston's third straight victory without a defeat.

The 76ers, on the other hand, aren't giving up easily. They won their fourth game without a loss, defeating New York 117-114. In other NBA games, Detroit downed Chicago 107-99, Los Angeles turned back Cincinnati 132-116 and Baltimore whipped San Diego 125-109.

In the American Basketball Association, New Jersey topped Minnesota 118-100.

Hal Greer dropped in 33 points for the 76ers, his third straight game. The Knicks led by 11 points early in the third quarter, but Philadelphia broke the game open after that.

Dave Bing scored four quick baskets late in the fourth quarter, bringing the Pistons back from a 10-point deficit. He led the scorers with 31 points and

"Wade And Shoot"

Hunting At Puxico
PUXICO -- "Wade and shoot" duck hunting will be available on the Duck Creek Wildlife Management Area near here this year for the first time.

Dan Dickente, area manager, said one 534-acre pool will be open to this kind of hunting throughout the duck season, Nov. 1 through Dec. 10.

"Wade and shoot" duck hunting is a little like jump shooting quail, only wetter. The hunter wades along and shoots at birds taking off as he approaches. Sometimes unwary ducks will fly in if he wades quietly.

The usual hunting method—at least on managed wildlife areas—is to sit in a blind and try to call and decoy ducks to your position. You freeze, of course, all over. But that's part of the sport.

In "Wade and shoot" hunting, you work so hard you don't freeze all over unless you fall into the water. Usually, only your feet freeze. So you need waders—very high waders.

Hip boots will do, of course, if the water isn't too deep, but at Duck Creek it is rather deep in spots. Waders are preferred.

The remaining two pools at Duck Creek will be used for blind shooting, as in the past.

In pool number 3, where "wade and shoot" hunting will be permitted, no hunting will be allowed within 50 yards of roads; no boats will be allowed; and no more than 30 hunters will be permitted in the pool at one time.

Sports Corner

By RON JAYNES

Well, the Sikeston Bulldog basketball squads hit the practice floor Monday in preparation for one of the school's biggest years.

At least that's what fans and school officials hope and look for as second year Coach N.P. McDaniel returns four starters off a 1966 squad that finished strong.

Our squad will be hampered during the first week or so of the season due to lack of practice. The team is prohibited from engaging in practice early because of football.

Many members of this year's squad are non-football players and could be meeting with Coach McDaniel and assistant Joe Baehner at night or after school. . . in order to keep up with the area teams.

The Sikeston squad is the last one in the area to take the floor for practice. . . All other class L schools started Oct. 1 or two weeks thereafter.

We know that Charleston has been founding the roundball since the first official day of practice (Oct. 1). . . holding sessions at night and on weekends. . . Many footballers attend these sessions. . . one of those. . . Bluejay Quarterback Charlie Babb. . . It doesn't seem to have hampered his playing.

Who knows. . . maybe it does hinder the reaction of some and maybe not. . . but why should the basketball players and coaches. . . even those players who do not participate in football. . . have to wait until 15 days before the first season game to begin preparation? . . . and that by the way is the Missouri State High School Activities association's required number of practice sessions a player must attend before competing in his first game.

Come on give way. . . for the athletes. . . if they are to represent our school they need to be in top physical condition as well as drilled on fundamentals.

Each sporting season overlaps on the other. . . and it seems to work out eventually. . . The football team doesn't hold off practice until the baseball season is over. . . so why should the basketball wait the end of the football campaign?

Maybe one can shorten the baseball season. . . move the football season ahead and begin basketball practice at SHS when every one in the district does. . . October 1.

This writer expects many area roundball fans to be utterly confused when the season opens. . . as the many rules changes and clarification of others will be a major factor.

One of the most talked about calls for a pair of lines drawn on each end of the court near the center court. . . to give an official a visual aid in calling a new five-second rule.

It's not really new but has been revised. . . is confusing to area officials and coaches. . . We hope to clarify each new rule in cartoon form starting Nov. 1.

It has been brought out at local rules meetings. . . conducted by the MSHSAA. . . which governs high school activities. . . of the need for officials in basketball and football. . . particularly the latter.

Any former athletes, who have played either sport interested, can write to: Jack Miles. . . MSHSAA office, Columbia, Mo. Where will the regional tournaments be held?

It is expected the class I. to be held at Charleston and the class S at Clarkton with the class M sites at Bloomfield, South Pemiscot and Oran.

These are only rumors. . . We meant to ask Cape Girardeau Central's football players if "Killer Garner" hit hard last week. . . How about it Mike. . . Can you hit as hard as big brother Dave?

ROCKINGHAM, N. C. (AP)—The North Carolina Motor Speedway's qualifying record of 116,684 miles per hour was expected to be broken today as qualifying began for Sunday's American 500 stock car race.

The first eight positions were to be determined with several Ford drivers challenging Plymouth's Richard Petty for the favorite's role.

This is no run-of-the-mill Bourbon. It's Bourbon with a richer, more robust taste. More of the taste that Bourbon was meant to have. It's Bourbon aged till the years have rounded out the taste and worn away the edges. It's Bourbon as smooth as a man could ask for. With all the taste of old-time whiskey, yet easy and mellow going down. If you know enough to know good Bourbon, this is one worth trying.

Big Red Hope For Treat Packers Trick Or Treating Monday

ST. LOUIS -- The traditional Halloween colors may be orange and black, but the goblins arriving in St. Louis on Monday will wear green and gold, and their war cry will be a little stronger than "Trick or Treat!"

The defending world champion Green Bay Packers will be here to face the Cardinals at 8:35 p.m. in Civic Center Busch Memorial Stadium before a sellout crowd and a whopping national television audience. The game will be carried nationally on the CBS network, with St. Louis blacked out.

The game has been sold out for a week, and standing room, at $6 a ticket, is on sale. Tickets will be sold as long as they last, or until 5 p.m. Monday, at which time the ticket office will close.

A 48-point performance against the Philadelphia Eagles sent the Big Red climbing in NFL figures. The Cardinals have totaled 14 points, trailing league-leading Baltimore by a single point.

Quarterback Jim Hart, firing four touchdown passes against the Eagles for a personal high, still has the cleanest uniform in the NFL. He's been trapped only twice in six games as the Big Red offensive line has done a tremendous job.

"The unit has displayed a great deal of pride," noted Bob (Red) Miller, assistant coach whose prime duty is the offensive line. "The men have played together for a number of years, and they work together very well. That's an unsung area, too. The offensive linemen are in the briar patch together and don't always get a lot of credit, but our line has done a great job this season."

The Cardinals and Packers haven't met since 1963, when the Pack struck for a 23-0 lead and coasted to a 30-7 victory. The Cardinal-Pack rivalry goes all the way back to 1921, and Green Bay holds a 35-19-3 edge. As a matter of fact, the Packers own victories in their last four meetings with the Cardinals, and the Big Red hasn't notched a triumph against Green Bay since 1949.

Green Bay's 4-1-1 mark gives the Packers the lead in the Central Division, and the Cardinals, at 4-2, are tied with Cleveland for the Century Division lead.

Hart's 74-yard completion to Jackie Smith was the Big Red's longest since Charley Johnson named Willis Crenshaw on a 78-yard play against Cleveland in 1965.

Bobby Joe Conrad also had a personal high, snarling eight passes for 115 yards and his first score of the year. The veteran flanker now has caught 362 passes in his career, best in Big Red history.

Smith, who caught four for 116 yards, now has career totals of 163, one behind Pat Harder's 178 catches for 3018 yards and is career total of 164.

After the Green Bay game, the Big Red travels to Washington to face the Redskins on November 5, then returns home to meet the Pittsburgh Steelers on November 12.

John Roland's touchdown run gave him seven for the season, matching the fourth best touch-downs -- rushing total for the Cardinals. John David Crow has the team mark of 14, set in 1962, followed by Ernie Nevers (12 in 1929), Elmer Angsman (8 in 1948), Angsman (1947), Pat Harder (1947 and 1949) and Crow (1964) also scored seven touchdowns rushing in a season.

Pat Fischer's interception and 69-yard scoring run gave him 29 for his career and three touchdowns. The TD total trails that of Bill Blackburn and trails only Larry Wilson, who has five. Jim Bakken, running his league-leading scoring total to 70 points, closed in on the Cardinal mark.

Hawks Streak Ended

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Boston Celtics, whose long reign as champions of the National Basketball Association was terminated by Philadelphia last season, have served notice that they will be right back in the thick of things this season.

The Celtics ended St. Louis' seven-game winning streak Wednesday night, beating the Hawks 118-104. Player-coach Bill Russell, with 25 rebounds and sterling defensive play, was the big factor in Boston's third straight victory without a defeat.

The 76ers, on the other hand, aren't giving up easily. They won their fourth game without a

"Wade And Shoot"
Hunting At Puxico

PUXICO -- "Wade and shoot" duck hunting will be available on the Duck Creek Wildlife Management Area near here this year for the first time.

Dan Dickmeite, area manager, said one 534-acre pool will be open to this kind of hunting throughout the duck season, Nov. 1 through Dec. 10.

"Wade and shoot" duck hunting is a little like jump shooting quail, only wetter. The hunter wades along and shoots at birds taking off as he approaches. Sometimes unwary ducks will fly in if he wades quietly.

The usual hunting method at least on managed wildlife areas -- is to sit in a blind and try to call and decoy ducks to your position. You freeze, of course, all over. But that's part of the sport.

In "Wade and shoot" hunting, you work so hard you don't freeze all over unless you fall into the water. Usually, only your feet freeze. So you need waders -- very high waders.

Hip boots will do, of course, if the water isn't too deep, but at Duck Creek it is rather deep in spots. Waders are preferred.

The remaining two ponds at Duck Creek will be used for blind shooting, as in the past.

In pond number 3, where "wade and shoot" hunting will be permitted, no hunting will be allowed within 50 yards of roads; no boats will be allowed; and no more than 30 hunters will be permitted in the pool at one time.

Indians Visit Rolla

CAPE GIRARDEAU -- On top of the heap and in the driver's seat is the position held by Coach Kenny Knox's Indians as they go on the road this weekend to meet the Miners at Rolla. South-east is in sole possession of first place in MIAA play, with a record of 2-0.

Rolla is currently on the wrong end of an 0-2 MIAA record, being beaten by Southwest Missouri State 21-0, and Central Missouri State 21-0. Leading the Miners' attack at the quarter-back position is sophomore Ron Miller, who ranks second in the conference in passing yardage, going into last week's game having completed 69 of 140 passes for 724 yards.

At fullback is Bob Nicodemus, a 190-pound junior from Nevada. After 5 games Nicodemus ranked number 3 in conference scoring, carrying 69 times for 288 yards and 6 touchdowns.

Halfback Larry Oliver is Miller's favorite receiver, catching 26 passes for 377 yards, good for 31 points. Complementing the Miners' running game is freshman halfback Dave Harris, with 118 yards in 42 carries.

Against Central Missouri State last week, Rolla was held to 7 first downs. The Miners picked up 56 yards rushing and completed 7 of 23 passes for 77 yards.

Calling the singals for Southeast against Rolla will be senior quarterback Greg Brune. Currently Brune leads the Indians in total individual offense, having completed 53 of 135 passes for 1018 yards. Junior halfback John Diepenbrock has caught 18 passes for 493 yards and 4 touchdowns. Senior end Glen Gibbons has 14 receptions for 212 yards.

Pacing the running game for Southeast is junior halfback Walt Smallwood, with 422 yards in 107 carries. Running with Smallwood is sophomore fullback Bruce Hoffman, who has picked up 1.3 yards in 64 attempts.

Well, the Sikeston Bulldog basketball squads hit the practice floor Monday in preparation for one of the school's biggest years.

At least that's what fans and school officials hope and look for as second year Coach N.P. McDaniel returns four starters off a 1966 squad that finished strong.

Our squad will be hampered during the first week or so of the season due to lack of practice. The team is prohibited from engaging in practice early because of football.

Many members of this year's squad are non-football players and could be meeting with Coach McDaniel and assistant Joe Baer at night or after school. . . in order to keep up with the area teams.

The Sikeston squad is the last one in the area to take the floor for practice. . . All other class L schools started Oct. 1 or two weeks there after.

We know that Charleston has been bounding the roundball since the first official day of practice (Oct. 1). . . holding sessions at night and on weekends. . . Many footballers attend these sessions.

One of those. . . Bluejay Quarterback Charlie Babb. . . It doesn't seem to have hampered his playing. . .

Who knows. . . maybe it does hinder the reaction of some and maybe not. . . but why should the basketball players and coaches . . . even those players who do not participate in football. . . have to wait until 15 days before the first season game to begin preparation?

And that by the way is the Missouri State High School Activities association's required number of practice sessions a player must attend before competing in his first game.

Come on give way. . . for the athletes. . . if they are to represent our school they need to be in top physical condition as well as drilled on fundamentals.

Each sporting season overlaps on the other. . . and it seems to work out eventually. . . The football team doesn't hold off practice until the baseball season is over. . . so why should the basketball await the end of the football campaign?

Big Red Hope For Treat Packers Trick Or Treating Monday

ST. LOUIS -- The traditional Halloween colors may be orange and black, but the goblins arriving in St. Louis on Monday will wear green and gold, and their war cry will be a little stronger than "Trick or Treat."

The defending world champion Green Bay Packers will be here to face the Cardinals at 8:35 p.m. in Civic Center Busch Memorial stadium before a sellout crowd and a whopping national television audience. The game will be carried nationally on the CBS network, with St. Louis blacked out.

The game has been sold out for a week, and standing room, at $6 a ticket, is on sale. Tickets will be sold as long as they last, or until 5 p.m. Monday, at which time the ticket office will close.

A 48-point performance against the Philadelphia Eagles set the Big Red climbing in NFL figures. The Cardinals have totaled 148 points, trailing league-leading Baltimore by a single point.

Quarterback Jim Hart, firing four touchdown passes against the Eagles for a personal high, still has the cleanest uniform in the NFL. He's been trapped only twice in six games as the Big Red offensive line has done a tremendous job.

"The unit has displayed a great deal of pride," noted Bob (Red) Miller, assistant coach whose prime duty is the offensive line. "The men have played together for a number of years, and they work together very well. That's an unsung area, too. The offensive linemen are in the briar patch together and don't always get a lot of credit, but our line has done a great job this season."

The Cardinals and Packers haven't met since 1963, when the Pack struck for a 23-0 lead and coasted to a 30-7 victory. The Cardinal-Pack rivalry goes all the way back to 1921, and Green Bay holds a 35-19-3 edge. As a matter of fact, the Packers own victories in their last four meetings with the Cardinals, and the Big Red hasn't notched a triumph against Green Bay since 1949.

Green Bay's 4-1-1 mark gives the Packers the lead in the Central Division, and the Cardinals, at 4-2, are tied with Cleveland for the Century Division lead.

Hart's 74-yard completion to Jackie Smith was the Big Red's longest since Charley Johnson nailed Willis Crenshaw on a 78-yard play against Cleveland in 1965.

Bobby Joe Conrad also had a personal high, snaring eight passes for 115 yards and his first score of the year. The veteran flanker now has caught 362 passes in his career, best in Big Red history.

Smith, who caught four for 116 yards, now has career totals of 163, one behind Pat Harder's 178 catches for 3018 yards and is moving up in Cardinal records. His total catches ties Billy Dewell for fourth in team history, behind Conrad, Sonny Randle (328) and Don Stonesifer (231). Smith's Pittsburgh Steelers on November 12.

John Roland's touchdown run gave him seven for the season, matching the fourth best touchdowns -- rushing total for the Cardinals. John David Crow has the team mark of 14, set in 1962, followed by Ernie Nevers (12 in 1929), Elmer Angsman (8 in 1948), Angsman (1947), Pat Harder (1947 and 1949) and Crow (1964) also scored seven touchdowns rushing in a season.

Pat Fischer's interception and 69-yard scoring run gave him 29 for his career and three touchdowns. The TD total matches that of Bill Blackburn and trails only Larry Wilson, who has five. Jim Bakken, running his league-leading scoring total to 70 points, closed in on the Cardinal mark for conversions, Bakken now has 163, one behind Pat Harder's career total of 164.

After the Green Bay game, the Big Red travels to Washington to face the Redskins on November 5, then returns home to meet the Pittsburgh Steelers on November 12.

About Our Schools

By Lynn Twitty

In this column last week, we distinguished one letter of the alphabet from the other. He which this year's taxes are based, increased only $15,838 over the previous year.

This increase in valuation, figured at the current tax rate of $4.00 on the $100 of assessed value, will increase our revenue by only $6,073.52 (assuming that taxes are collected 100 per cent which they aren't). Our enrollment for this year will increase approximately 40 students over last year. If our costs run about $400 per year per student and it is slightly above this figure, this will mean that costs for this year will go up $16,000. It doesn't take anything but simple mathematics to figure that we are going to be approximately $10,000 short for this item alone. And when we take into consideration that inflation will increase our overall cost by about 5 per cent, this adds up to the tidy sum of approximately $100,000.00, and we still haven't considered the fact that our educational program should be better, which costs more money, in order to prepare our students to function in a society that is daily becoming more demanding and competitive.

Obviously, at the present rate, our taxable valuation is not going to increase anything near enough to bring in the needed money locally, so unless the quality of education provided for our children is to go down, we must look to the state for additional funds. We hope that the governor places this item high on the agenda for consideration in the special session of the Missouri General Assembly he will convene.

Presently 32 states give more state support to schools than we do in Missouri. We could do better as we rank about 12th-13th among the states in per capita income in relation to our public school enrollment. If we don't provide more money for quality education, we can expect to see this high per capita income decrease as it is an indisputable fact that education and income are, on the average, directly related.

Thirteen and one-half weeks ago, "Joe Blow" (naturally that is not his real name) enrolled in our Manpower Development Training Program. Joe couldn't read or write, in fact, he couldn't

Nonfarm Employment

Starts Upward Surge

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — As concrete evidence of the Missouri's nonfarm employment has started up again, it was announced today by Herman J. Lieben, state employment security director.

The September total was 1,583,400 compared with 1,574,900 in August. It was 16,700 more than in September, 1966.

The work force declined 24,100 in September but was 10,300 more than in September a year ago.

Unemployment dropped 19,400 from August to September and was 6,200 more than a year earlier. The September figure was 2.8 per cent of the work force, compared with 3.7 per cent in August and 2.5 per cent a year ago.

As asked each student, as an assignment, to write a letter about his field of job training interest, Joe wrote the following. It is not a polished literary effort, obviously, but for a person who, 13 weeks before, couldn't even write his name, we think it is pretty good. It shows that adults can be taught to read and write, and of course, this is basic to getting a job and supporting oneself and family. Joe is only one of many who are doing equally well. This is his letter:

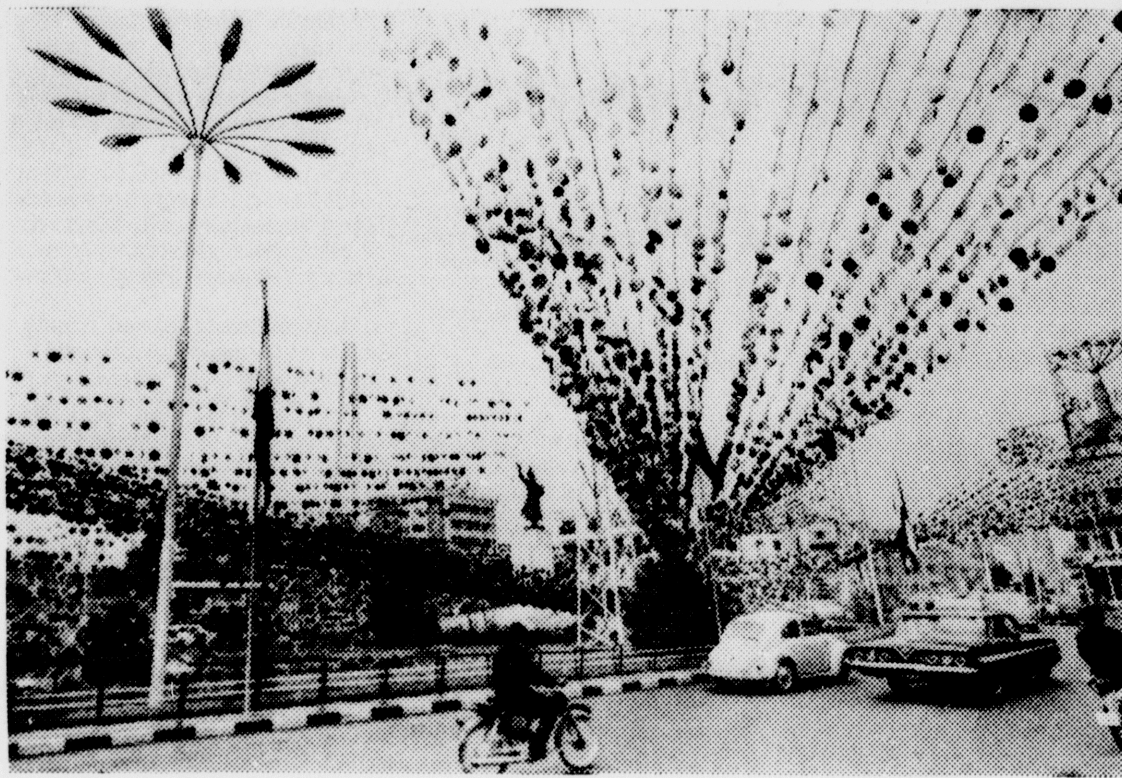

"I want to be trained as a welder because I want to make a better living for my family. One unskilled person can make a decent living with the changing of time. I started to the MDTA school in Sikeston July 10 and I couldn't even write my name. This is October 12 and I can write a little and read a few words. I feel that this school has helped me a lot."

Senior High principal, Roger Sherman, reports that a student committee is being appointed to work with the faculty and administrators in relation to student conduct, dress, special problems and also to advise toward curriculum or program improvement, a better activity program and anything else which relates to the student body and the school. The experience and advice of the students will also be used to plan an improved program of orientation for incoming students, especially next year when ninth graders will be added to the present Senior High student body.

The committee is made up of the student council president and other representatives; the class presidents and four students to be selected at large by the principal with the advice of guidance counselors, faculty members and the student council.

Our observation, and the record, leads us to believe that the conduct of our student body is generally high and, we think, much above the average. At the same time, problems do arise which can best be solved through mutual effort representing the student body, the faculty and the administration. We think this student advisory committee is in an excellent approach.

As concrete evidence of the value of a kindergarten program, we cite the following: of approximately 90 children who had previously attended one of our community's private kindergartens, only one child ranked low and needed additional time and readiness instruction before he could succeed as a first grader. Those who did not attend kindergarten required additional time and preschool readiness before they could begin first grade work. It would be a reasonable assumption that kindergarten would have had about the same effect on these youngsters. That is, they would have had about the same effect on these youngsters. rapidly. Unfortunately, all of these children did not have the opportunity to attend a kindergarten program.

It is the intent of the Board of Education to submit a proposal to the voters, next spring, to increase the tax levy by approximately $15 on the $100 of assessed valuation, to finance a public school kindergarten.

Governor Gets First

Ice Pop at Sidewalk

Stand's Reopening

SATELLITE BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Eleven-year-old Billy Churchill's sidewalk ice-pop stand has been reopened by Gov. Claude Kirk in what the governor termed a young man's "Victory over bureaucracy."

Kirk became the first customer Tuesday at the sixth-grader's tiny business since it was closed down by a county health department order last Sept. 8.

The freckle-faced youth had been selling ice-pops for about two years at his sidewalk stand until someone complained to the Brevard County Health Department that the boy had no permit.

Health officials said they were just enforcing the law so Billy's father wired Kirk last week. An aide was dispatched who helped the boy secure his permit.

For his help in cutting the red tape, Billy offered the governor a lime-flavored ice-pop for free. He normally charges three cents each.

Should there not now be any communists in the United States, as some think, there may occur an infiltration through demonstrations, riots and other crimes, amounting to 1/2 per cent per year. Within five years the cumulative total would then be 2 1/2 per cent. It has been thought that nations are often taken over when the infiltration amounts to about 2 1/2 per cent. This may account for the people having quit saying "It can't happen here!" It will not happen here if nearly everyone of the 85 per cent who oppose communism no longer show a willingness to tolerate a build-up and 60 per cent of us become active anti-communists, and do everything we conveniently can to promote liberty and oppose communism.

Three Arrested For Theft of Soybeans

CARUTHERSVILLE - Pemiscot County Deputy Sheriffs Wesley Mayo and Tommy German arrested three men Tuesday after watching a trio thresh, load and drive away with soybeans from another man's farm.

The incident occurred on a farm operated by Bobby Jackson on Rader Island inside the Tennessee line.

Deputy Mayo said that he was informed earlier Monday that such an incident was to occur Monday night and went to the farm 13 miles south of Caruthersville. He later summoned Deputy German to the scene where they watched from 300 feet. Arrested were Sam Owens, 40 Boyce Frasher, 20, both of Steel; and E. J. Whitledge, Jr., 33, of No. 9, Ark..

The three men will be returned to Tennessee for prosecution on burglary and larceny charges, according to Deputy Mayo.

Whitledge was employed by Jackson and had taken a load of beans from a truck on the farm Thursday night, Mayo said.

Commercial flights will begin Wednesday.

Taking part in the ceremonies will be officials of the company and City Manager Paul F. Fredrick, members of the city council and the airport board.

George Caleshu, president of the airlines, in a letter to Mayor J. Hugh Logan, said that a jet plane such as will be used here will be on display Monday. It will also be available for rides by the Cape Girardeau delegation.

The company will use 18 passenger jets to provide passenger and air cargo transport service from St. Louis to Memphis, and return with stops in Cape Girardeau.

Merger Plans Boost Stock

NEW YORK (AP) — Common stocks of both International Telephone and Telegraph Corp. and Sheraton Corp. of America hit new highs for the year Wednesday following announcement that ITT had agreed in principle to acquire Sheraton.

The agreement—subject to approval by both boards of directors, ratification by Sheraton shareholders and a favorable tax ruling—involves an exchange of stock valued at about $190 million the two firms said.

Sheraton operates 154 hotels and motor inns in the United States and abroad. Its gross income for the fiscal year ended April 30 was more than $286.67 million.

ITT had sales of $2.12 billion in 1966 from its operations in telecommunications and a variety of other fields. It operates hotels through an acquired company.

Sheraton stock closed up 2 1/4 points at 28 1/2. ITT advanced 1 1/8 points to 117.

Man Skips out With Magazine Ad Returns

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — At least 430 persons who answered a magazine advertisement promising 30-cent premiums on $1 silver certificates won't realize their investment—or get their dollars back.

Postal authorities said Wednesday a man who placed an ad in a national numismatics magazine with a Philadelphia hotel as a return address, skipped out with more than $150,000 in silver certificates mailed him through the ad.

George Givens, a post office inspector, said a man using the fictitious name of Charles Geene and a Stamford, Conn., address, checked into the hotel Sept. 5 and placed the ad offering to pay the premium on all silver certificates sent him by registered mail. The ad requested all mailed be postmarked prior to Oct. 7.

A warrant for the man's arrest was issued.

California citrus growers estimate it takes about 1,250 glasses of irrigation water to produce one glass of orange juice.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor
DAILY SIKESTON STANDARD
Sikeston, Missouri

Should there not now be any communists in the United States, as some think, there may occur an infiltration through demonstrations, riots and other crimes, amounting to 1/2 per cent per year. Within five years the cumulative total would then be 2 1/2 per cent. It has been thought that nations are often taken over when the infiltration amounts to about 2 1/2 per cent. This may account for the people having quit saying "It can't happen here!" It will not happen here if nearly everyone of the 85 per cent who oppose communism no longer show a willingness to tolerate a build-up and 60 per cent of us become active anti-communists, and do everything we conveniently can to promote liberty and oppose communism.

Goin Installed By I.O.O.F.

CHAFFEE - Gerald Goin was installed as grand patriarch at the grand encampment session of the patriarchal branch of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows at Liberty.

At this same session his wife, Mrs. Anna D. Goin, was installed as grand flag bearer to the grand ladies encampment auxiliary I.O.O.F. of Missouri.

Other area membership representatives were:

Three Arrested For Theft of Soybeans

CARUTHERSVILLE - Pemiscot County Deputy Sheriffs Wesley Mayo and Tommy German arrested three men Tuesday after watching a trio thresh, load and drive away with soybeans from another man's farm.

The incident occurred on a farm operated by Bobby Jackson on Rader Island inside the Tennessee line.

Deputy Mayo said that he was informed earlier Monday that such an incident was to occur Monday night and went to the farm 13 miles south of Caruthersville. He later summoned Deputy German to the scene where they watched from 300 feet. Arrested were Sam Owens, 40 Boyce Fraser, 20, both of Steel; and E. J. Whitledge, Jr., 33, of No. 9, Ark.

The three men will be returned to Tennessee for prosecution on burglary and larceny charges, according to Deputy Mayo.

Whitledge was employed by Jackson and had taken a load of beans from a truck on the farm Thursday night, Mayo said.

Sun to Open Cape-Memphis Air Service

CAPE GIRARDEAU - An informal inauguration ceremony will be held by Sun Airlines Monday at municipal airport to officially observe the launching of its new jet service to Cape Girardeau.

Commercial flights will begin Wednesday.

Taking part in the ceremonies will be officials of the company and City Manager Paul F. Frederick, members of the city council and the airport board.

George Caleshu, president of the airlines, in a letter to Mayor J. Hugh Logan, said that a jet plane such as will be used here will be on display Monday. It will also be available for rides by the Cape Girardeau delegation.

The company will use 18 passenger Lear jets to provide passenger and air cargo transport service from St. Louis to Memphis, and return with stops in Cape Girardeau.

Merger Plans Boost Stock

NEW YORK (AP) — Common stocks of both International Telephone and Telegraph Corp. and Sheraton Corp. of America hit new highs for the year Wednesday following announcement that ITT had agreed in principle to acquire Sheraton.

The agreement—subject to approval by both boards of directors, ratification by Sheraton shareholders and a favorable tax ruling—involves an exchange of stock valued at about $190 million the two firms said.

Sheraton operates 154 hotels and motor inns in the United States and abroad. Its gross income for the fiscal year ended April 30 was more than $286.67 million.

ITT had sales of $2.12 billion in 1966 from its operations in telecommunications and a variety of other fields. It operates more than 100,000 telephones through an acquired company.

Sheraton stock closed up 2 1/4 points at 28 1/2, ITT advanced 1 1/2 points to 117.

The first U.S. flag, with its 13 stripes, was raised on Prospect Hill, Somerville, Mass., in 1776.

Man Skips out With Magazine Ad Returns

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — At least 430 persons who answered a magazine advertisement promising 30-cent premiums on $1 silver certificates won't realize their investment—or get their dollars back.

Postal authorities said Wednesday a man who placed an ad in a national numismatics magazine with a Philadelphia hotel as a return address, skipped out with more than $150,000 in silver certificates mailed him through the ad.

George Givens, a post office inspector, said a man using the fictitious name of Charles Geene and a Stamford, Conn., address, checked into the hotel Sept. 5 and placed the ad offering to mail 30-cent premiums on all silver certificates sent him by registered mail. The ad requested that all mailed be postmarked prior to Oct. 7.

A warrant for the man's arrest was issued.

California citrus growers estimate it takes about 1,250 glasses of irrigation water to produce one glass of orange juice.

Ann Landers Teenager Game Named For Standard Columnist

Dear Ann Landers: A new fad started a few weeks ago. It has kids get to know each other better, really taken hold and I wonder if you know about it. It's called "Let's play Ann Landers." Here's how it works: When teen-agers get together (it can be either a group or just one boy and one girl) and the conversation, someone pops up with kids. I'm all for it.

Dear Ann Landers: I need some help with my 12-year-old daughter. Her daddy died when she was seven months old and I went to live with my widowed mother and unmarried sister. Terry has grown up with no man in the house

This game is a gas. It also helps kids get to know each other better. Please print my letter and tell us you aren't insulted. -- GARDEN CITY PRINCES

Dear Princes: Indeed not, I'm flattered. I wish I could be a little mouse in the corner during one of these sessions. Keep talking, kids. I'm all for it.

Dear Ann Landers: I need some help with my 12-year-old daughter. Her daddy died when she was seven months old and I went to live with my widowed mother and unmarried sister. Terry has grown up with no man in the house

--unfortunately her only uncle lives 1,000 miles away.

Ever since Terry was a small child she was overly affectionate toward any male who came into the house. She climbed on men's laps, combed their hair, patted their faces and begged them to kiss her. This was considered cute when she was a tot, but now I'm worried because she has not outgrown it as I had hoped she would. I feel she should not be kissing the mailman, the meter reader, the paper boy and everything in trousers. I would appreciate your advice on what to do, Ann. -- TROUBLE AHEAD

Dear Trouble: Little girls who grow up with no man in the house sometimes become starved for fatherly affection and this is why they become overly affectionate to "anything in trousers." (Incidentally, the same thing occurs to little girls whose fathers ignore them.)

I hope you will speak to your daughter's teacher. Ask her advice. Some schools have excellent counseling programs and perhaps Terry can get the help she needs from the school counselor. If not, ask the teacher to recommend someone.

Confidential to I wanted help and you gave me rubbish: Sorry about that. The trouble with good, solid advice, my friend, is that it sometimes interferes with people's plans.

When romantic glances turn to warm embraces it is love or chemistry? Send for the booklet "Love Or Sex And How To Tell The Difference," by Ann Landers. Enclose a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and 35¢ in coin with your request.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Gun Toting Man Freed

By Jack Strauss, LL.D.

Sheriff Hoople boasted that he always got his man. Consequently, when he crossed over into another county, in hot pursuit of a desperate criminal, it was no surprise when the chase ended up with someone behind bars. What was surprising, however, was that it was Sheriff Hoople who was the one in jail. It seemed he ran into the local sheriff who arrested him for packing a gun.

"It's ridiculous," Hoople protested in court. "I'm supposed to carry a gun. I'm a sheriff!"

"Not in my county he's not," retorted the local lawman. "In my county, he's just another guy named Hoople."

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you jail Sheriff Hoople for toting a gun?

This is how the judge ruled: Hoople was ordered released. The judge held that it is common practice for law officers to go beyond their jurisdiction to locate criminals. Since it would appear to be an obvious handicap for them to go unarmed, for them to carry their guns should not be unlawful.

(Based upon a 1965 Kentucky Court of Appeals Decision.)

Ann Landers

Teenager Game Named For Standard Columnist

Dear Ann Landers: A new fad started a few weeks ago. It has kids get to know each other better, really taken hold and I wonder if you know about it. It's called "Let's play Ann Landers." Here's how it works: When teen-agers get together (it can be either a group or just one boy and one girl) and the conversation lags, someone pops up with "Let's play Ann Landers." The person who is "R" is asked a question by anyone in the crowd. The person who must judge "R's" answer is called "Pigeon." It can be a sensible question or a dumb question or a personal question. The trick is to come up with an answer that sounds like Ann Landers. "Pigeon" is then asked if he agrees with Ann. He must say "yes" or "no" and state his reasons. If he doesn't come up with a good reason he is "R" until he makes the grade. You'd come unglued if you could hear some of the answers. One kid had a column of yours in his wallet. He just whipped it out and read the answer and cracked up the whole crowd.

If You Were the Judge

Gun Toting Man Freed

By Jack Strauss, L.L.D.
Sheriff Hoople boasted that he always got his man. Consequently, when he crossed over into another county, in hot pursuit of a desperate criminal, it was no surprise when the chase ended up with someone behind bars. What was surprising, however, was that it was Sheriff Hoople who was the one in jail. It seemed he ran into the local sheriff who arrested him for packing a gun.
"It's ridiculous," Hoople protested in court. "I'm supposed to carry a gun. I'm a sheriff!"
"Not in my county he's not," retorted the local lawman. "In my county, he's just another guy named Hoople."
IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you jail Sheriff Hoople for toting a gun?
This is how the judge ruled: Hoople was ordered released. The judge held that it is common practice for law officers to go beyond their jurisdiction to locate criminals. Since it would appear to be an obvious handicap for them to go unarmed, for them to carry their guns should not be unlawful.
(Based upon a 1965 Kentucky Court of Appeals Decision.)
TODAY'S LEGAL POINTER:
Each party to a telephone call assumes the risk that the other party may allow another to overhear the conversation. And, while the consenting party's conduct may be a breach of etiquette, or breach of trust or confidence, it is not illegal.
(For personal guidance, see your local attorney.)

--unfortunately her only uncle lives 1,000 miles away.
Ever since Terry was a small child she was overly affectionate toward any male who came into the house. She climbed on men's laps, combed their hair, patted their faces and begged them to kiss her. This was considered cute when she was a tot, but now I'm worried because she has not outgrown it as I had hoped she would. I feel she should not be kissing the mailman, the meter reader, the paper boy and everything in trousers. I would appreciate your advice on what to do, Ann. -- TROUBLE AHEAD
Dear Trouble: Little girls who grow up with no man in the house sometimes become starved for fatherly affection and this is why they become overly affectionate to "anything in trousers." (Incidentally, the same thing occurs to little girls whose fathers ignore them.)
I hope you will speak to your daughter's teacher. Ask her advice. Some schools have excellent counseling programs and perhaps Terry can get the help she needs from the school counselor. If not, ask the teacher to recommend someone.
Confidential to I wanted help and you gave me rubbish: Sorry about that. The trouble with good, solid advice, my friend, is that it sometimes interferes with people's plans.
When romantic glances turn to warm embraces is it love or chemistry? Send for the booklet "Love Or Sex And How To Tell The Difference," by Ann Landers. Enclose a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and 35¢ in coin with your request.
Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Payment Made for Expressway Study

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) -- The Ozark Expressway Route Association gave $10,000 to a Memphis firm Wednesday to begin a study of the possibility of a four-lane highway from Memphis to Kansas City.

The association expects to know in from four to six months if it has a chance for success in getting the road.

The firm, Harland Bartholomew and Associates, will report, possibly by late February, according to association president Frank Carlisle of Cotter, Ark.

Several routes are under consideration for the expressway. A popular one enters Arkansas near Mountain Home and goes south through Izard, Independence, Jackson, Poinsett, Cross and Crittenden counties.

It was proposed by former association president Orville Richolson because it serves several metropolitan areas and passes near Arkansas state parks.

Payment Made for Expressway Study

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—The Ozark Express Route Association gave $10,000 to a Memphis firm Wednesday to begin a study of the possibility of a four-lane highway from Memphis to Kansas City.

The association expects to know in from four to six months if it has a chance for success in getting the road.

The firm, Harland Bartholomew and Associates, will report, possibly by late February, according to association president Frank Carlisle of Cotter, Ark.

Several routes are under consideration for the expressway. A popular one enters Arkansas near Mountain Home and goes south through Izard, Independence, Jackson, Poinsett, Cross and Crittenden counties.

It was proposed by former association president Orville Richolson because it serves several metropolitan areas and passes near Arkansas state parks.
